MUSIC LOVER

"HEY, Willie, what are you chewing on that big black stick for?" asked Casey, as he ran up to the open window where Willie was sitting.

Li'l Willie stuck his head out and looked down at his pal Casey. "This isn't a stick, Casey. It's a musical instrument."

"Call it whatever you want, Willie, but it still looks like a big black stick to me," Casey insisted.

"Aw, Casey, don't be so stupid. This is a piccolo," Willie explained, holding out the instrument.

"A pickle, who?" Casey scratched his head in confusion.

"Not a pickle, Casey," Willie tried to explain further. "A piccolo. An instrument for making music."

"You have to prove it to me, Willie," Casey insisted as he crossed his arms and waited.

"All right," Willie accepted the challenge. He put the piccolo into his mouth and blew. It sounded as if every alley-cat in the neighborhood was inside that instrument, having its tail twisted.

Casey plugged up his ears with his fingers and shut his eyes.

Willie finished blowing his piccolo and with great pride inquired: "There, how's that, Casey?"

Casey wrinkled up his nose. "I still say it's a pickle—a sour one at that!"

"Thank you, music lover," Willie bowed low, completely ignoring Casey's remark.

"Where'd you get that overgrown licorice stick, anyway, Willie?" Casey asked.

"It's a gift from my rich Uncle Snuffy. He's a great music lover. He played when he was only three months old."

"What'd he play on?" Casey asked, greatly impressed.

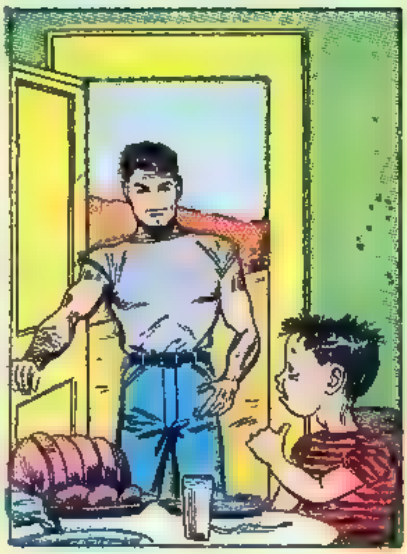
"On the kitchen floor," Willie replied. "And tonight he's coming to hear me play. If he likes my playing he said he would buy me a real live pony."

"All I have to say after hearing you play, Willie," Casey said, "is don't rush out to buy a saddle."

"I have to continue with my practising now, Casey. But you can come over tonight and listen to me play."

"Okay, Willie, anything for a pal. See you tonight."

Li'l Willie practised faithfully. When evening came he was completely confident that he could play well enough to please his rich Uncle Snuffy.



Casey came over early. He patted Willie on the back gently and said: "No matter what happens tonight, Willie, ol' pal, don't feel too bad. Remember, a pony isn't everything."

After supper Casey walked over to where Willie's piccolo lay on the table. He knew that Willie couldn't please Uncle Snuffy with his playing and Casey felt that it was up to him to protect his pal Willie.

Casey took out a big, sticky wad of bubble gum from his mouth and stuffed it into the piccolo. Now the piccolo wouldn't play and Willie would have a perfect excuse for not making music for his uncle.

The time for Willie to play was at hand. His mother, father, Casey and Uncle Snuffy sat quietly as Li'l Willie raised the piccolo to his lips. He blew into it once, then again and again, until his face turned into a sickly deep purple.

Then suddenly the room filled with bright and joyous notes. Willie blew. Wild, frenzied music of merriment swelled the room and brought looks of astonishment to all the faces present. Even Willie was surprised.

When Li'l Willie finished blowing, his Uncle Snuffy put his arm around Willie and smiled.

"That was wonderful, William, my boy. I could feel the cadence of Beethoven's overture to "Egmont" in your music. And your shrill notes easily reached the difficult frenzy of the barbarous Scythians in "Iphigenie in Tauris."

Willie didn't understand a word of what his uncle was raving about, but he could see that his uncle was greatly pleased.

"The pony is yours, Willie," his Uncle said. "I can still hear your superb piccolo playing ringing in my ears."

Casey hurried out into the kitchen and Willie ran after him.

"What are you running in here for, Casey?" Willie asked.

"To turn off this superb whistling tea kettle before your Uncle Snuffy gets wise," Casey winked at Willie.

THE BIG GAME

"CHAMPIONSHIP baseball game between the Backyard Bums and the Sloppy Sluggers, this afternoon at two o'clock." Li'l Willie's eyes popped wide open as he read the poster. He smiled happily and continued to read: "Admission, fifty cents."

The smile disappeared from his face as he read the price of the game. He dug into his little pockets and pulled out a top, a broken toothbrush, three buttons, a rusty key, seven links of a bicycle chain and two cents.

"Not quite enough to get in," Willie deduced, returning the wealth to his pockets. "And the game is just about starting now."

He read the poster again. "This is terrible. This is awful," he shook his head sadly. "I'll never live through this—never."

Peggy came out of her house and saw Li'l Willie across the street, looking like he had lost his best friend. She ran over to him.

"I was just going over to your house, Willie, but now I won't have to go."

Willie ignored Peggy completely. He was pacing up and down the pavement mumbling under his breath.

"Why does this have to happen to me? I've always been a good boy." He paused for a second. "Well, almost always. This means the end. I'll become a hermit."

"What in the world is the matter with you, Willie?" Peggy shouted. "I said I wanted to see you."

Li'l Willie didn't even cast a glance toward Peggy. He kept on walking back and forth, shaking his head and talking to himself.

Peggy put her arms akimbo and inhaled deeply. Then, with a powerful blast, she screamed at the top of her voice:

"WILLIE-E-E-E-E-E-E!"

That stopped him in his tracks. Turning his head slowly toward Peggy, he asked "Did you say something, young lady?"

"I'm not a young lady, I'm Peggy."

"Peggy?" Willie scratched his black-haired head. "Peggy who?"

Peggy walked over to Li'l Willie and took hold of his button nose and gave it a sharp twist.

"Oh, Peggy!" Willie snapped out of his stupor. "Hi, Peg."

"What's the matter with you, Willie? You pace up and down like a telephone-booth picket and keep mumbling to yourself about how terrible something is."

"Aw, Peggy, you wouldn't understand even if I told you."

"And why wouldn't I?" Peggy asked.

"Because."

"Why, because?" Peggy insisted.

"Because you're—you're a . ."

"Be careful what you say, Willie," Peggy warned.

". . . a woman," Willie managed to blurt out after a couple of gulps.

"Aw, Willie, that's the sweetest thing you've ever said to me. You're a darling," Peggy blushed.

"There, see what I mean?" Willie pointed his finger at Peggy. "That's just like a woman. Here a man suffers with great problems on his mind and all you care about is pretty words. Women, bah!"

"But I do think about you sometimes, Willie," Peggy explained. "Didn't I give you a turkey wishbone last week? And didn't I let you slide down our bannister yesterday?"

"That was yesterday and last week. What have you done for me lately?" Willie asked as he began to pace up and down again.

"I was going over to your house to see you just before I spied you parading up and down the sidewalk here."

"What good is that? Coming up to visit me isn't any good unless you bring something."

"I was bringing you something, Willie."

"Sure you were. A doll to fix or you needed some help with your homework," Willie complained.

"My doll isn't broken and I can do my own homework, Willie."

Willie stopped pacing. "Then what was it you were bringing me?"

"This," said Peggy, holding out her hand.

Li'l Willie's eyes almost popped out of his head as he looked down at the baseball admission ticket to the championship game that Peggy was holding in her hand.

"Oh-h-h-h-h-h!" Willie moaned, "and the game is all over by now!"

Get Rid of UGLY PIMPLES this new easy way!

Amazing new medicated lotion developed by a doctor works wonders by clearing up skin blemishes in one week or less!

DON'T let a bad complexion ruin romance, spoil your fun, cause you to be embarrassed, shy or ashamed. If you suffer from acne, the common external cause of pimples among young people, try this wonderfully effective medicated lotion that was developed by a practicing physician to clear up his own teen ager's complexion after other methods had failed. It has produced astonishing results for many thousands of others. It is GUARANTEED to help you or it won't cost you a single cent!

Doesn't Show On Your Face

Keraplex is a skin-colored lotion (NOT a greasy salve or ointment!) that is quickly absorbed by the skin and gets right down in the pores where its healing and antiseptic ingredients can go to work. After you have applied it, there is no trace left on the surface. In fact, it makes a perfect powder base for girls and a refreshing after shaving lotion for men . . . actually improves the tone of the skin! It is pleasant and easy to use — leaving your skin soft, clean and fragrant.

Works in SIX Out of SEVEN Cases!

An analysis of RESULTS taken from actual case histories proves that Keraplex is successful in clearing up six of every seven cases of externally caused blackheads, pimples and other common blemishes. It is also very effective in the treatment of eczema. It tones up the complexion generally, giving it a healthy, radiant glow.

Try This New Method Without Risking A Penny!

Keraplex is GUARANTEED to clear up your skin troubles or there will be NO COST to you whatsoever. If yours happens to be the ONE extra-stubborn case out of seven which Keraplex cannot help in one short week, it will cost you nothing to have tried it. Keraplex is sent to you with that simple, positive GUARANTEE!

SEND NO MONEY

You need send no money with the coupon below. When postman delivers your Keraplex lotion (in plain wrapper marked "Personal"), deposit with him only the modest price indicated below, plus a few cents postage.
